

Here children are taught independence and the teachers focus on the development of the children's individual skills, such as being confident, talking in public and discussing personal ideas. The school supports a different charity every year and it chooses a theme to be developed in the classes at different levels.

The old building is surrounded by a garden with a playground and it consists of a nursery room (3 teachers every 3 children- max 9) a gym, also used for drama, music, reading, ITC and dining, where they're taught a healthy diet. The classrooms are decorated with pupils' posters and poems.
